INVADE GERMANY TO COMPEL OBEDIENCE TO ALLIED DEMANDS

NO INTERFERENCE IS MET

Foreign Minister Von Simons at the Last Shows Bitterness Over In-
friction of Penalties

NO GERMAN PORTS SEIZED

Economic Pressure Will Begin
Thursday With Custom Lines
Being Drawn Along Rhine

(By United Press)

London, Mar. 8.—Allied armies today invaded Germany to compel obedience to the reparation demands. The rich mining and shipping centers of Dusseldorf, Duisberg and Ruhrort submitted to the allied control at 6 a. m. when the British, French and Belgian troops marched across the Rhine to assume possession.

The occupation was accomplished without incident. German officials having been instructed to interfere in no way. The German reparation committee, its proposals sternly rejected without debate, when they failed to approve the demands of the allies, left London at 2 p. m. today.

Foreign Minister Von Simons at the last showed some bitterness, declaring that the infliction of the penalties now would hamper future attempts. He had previously announced he would appeal to the league of nations. So far as official statement is concerned, the military action includes the establishment of new bridgeheads at Dusseldorf. No German ports have been seized, as had been threatened.

It was believed that economic pressure will begin Thursday with custom lines being established parallel to the Rhine at a depth of 19 miles. German custom houses will be seized and a tax of 30 percent will be levied on all German goods.

The presence of American troops in Coblenz bridgehead complicates action somewhat. If American troops were permitted to co-operate with the allies, the customs lines will include their territory. However, if Washington will not participate, the customs line will be drawn west at the American bridgehead.

HARDING CABINET IN FIRST SESSION

Creation of More Effective Executive Machinery is Discussed by Heads of Departments

VICE-PRESIDENT ATTENDS

(By United Press)

Washington, Mar. 8.—Creation of more effective executive machinery was discussed at today's meeting of the cabinet. Problems confronting each of the government departments were taken up also.

The cabinet, it was stated, also discussed methods to eliminate overlapping of differences among the several departments. All the cabinet members will follow this policy and propose to realize its fulfillment and to avoid any suggestion of jealousy among the different departments.

Other matters which were taken up included the Central American situation brought about by hostilities between Panama and Costa Rica.

Secretary of War Weeks, presented the war department problems in reorganizing the armies on a post war basis.

Vice President Coolidge attended the meeting and was received upon the same basis as though he was head of the department.

To Prevent Uprisings By Communists

German Officials With Reparations Committee, Hasten Home From London, Fearing Demonstrations
by Radicals Due to Allied Occupation

(By United Press)

London, Mar. 8.—German officials with the reparations committee left today to prevent communist uprisings in Germany as the result of the allied occupation.

Both Foreign Minister Von Simons and General Von Seeckt wired army officials and the war ministry to be on guard.

The German delegation which was downcast at the failure to reach an agreement, was believed on its way home at 2 p. m. It was stated their message would be rushed to Berlin because of the report that the Communists had planned a demonstration regardless of the outcome of the conference here.

The radicals were said to declare that no matter what the result was, the decision would be capitalistic.

ginning to thin out, long columns of French, British and Belgian soldiers, equipped and rationed for war, tramped over the bridges, and into the German cities of Dusseldorf, Duisberg and Ruhrort.

Horse, foot and artillery, they advanced into the Ruhr valley, Germany's richest mineral bin. They swung into the narrow streets of the old cities. People peeped out timidly from windows and doorways. The rumble of wheels and the clatter of hoofs, the sound of shrill whistles giving orders and the steady shuff-shuff of thousands of feet over the cobbles was the music to which the allied armies marched deeper into Germany.

The operations were directed by General Degoutte of the French army from his headquarters at Neuss, opposite Dusseldorf. The French forces were under direct command of General Gaucher.

During the night the French advanced to the center of the Dusseldorf bridge where a barbed wire entanglement was placed. Pioneers went ahead and threw up earthworks and established a trench line beyond the bridge, just as if a lurking enemy were waiting to attack. There was no sign of life, however, from the darkened city and the operations were conducted in a strange quiet.

Meanwhile, more French troops in river boats were coming up the Rhine past Coblenz, where the United States army of occupation is based. They passed Coblenz in the night.

Before today's forward movement started artillery clattered over Dusseldorf bridge and swung into position where it could cover the advance of the army at dawn.

Then the French, British and Belgians went forward, bayonets fixed and ready for action, but there was no sign of resistance, not even a stray shot from a housetop. Commanding officers commandeered houses for headquarters, their staffs were billeted nearby and in a remarkably short space of time the city was completely occupied.

At the same time and in accord with plans prepared by the allied leaders when it was seen that the Germans would remain obdurate, French and Belgian troops went into Ruhrort and Duisberg.

12,000 British in Germany

London, Mar. 8.—Orders for the advance of British troops on Dusseldorf were issued at the British war office last night, it was reported here today. At present 12,000 British soldiers are in Germany, of which 4,000 are on temporary duty in Upper Silesia. It is believed the forces along the Rhine will be reinforced so that they will number 12,000 four battalions being ready to go to the British region of the

TO REVIVE ANNUAL SUPPER

Knights of Pythias Announce Event
For Thursday Evening

The annual custom of holding a basket supper will be revived by the Knights of Pythias lodge Thursday evening. The dinner has not been given for a couple of years, but formerly was a very popular event. Supper will be served promptly at 6:30 o'clock and members of the lodge are urged to have their baskets at the hall by 5:30.

An effort is being made to have the Tall Cedars minstrel repeated at the supper. It has been found that most of those taking part in the minstrel show are members of the Knights of Pythias lodge. If arrangements are made as planned, the show will be given immediately after the supper in the lodge room and this will be followed by dancing. Visiting Knights of Pythias and their families in the city will be welcome.

BASKETBALL SQUAD ROTARIANS GUESTS

High School Players Complimented,
at Weekly Meeting of Club, For Season's Record

EACH RESPONDS BRIEFLY

Coach A. H. Sutton and Principal A. M. Taylor Also Guests—Judge Will M. Sparks Presides

Members of the high school basketball squad, Coach A. H. Sutton and A. M. Taylor, principal of the high school, were guests of the Rotary club at the regular weekly luncheon today. Each member of the squad, which included the five varsity men and five regular substitutes, made short responses when called upon by Judge Will M. Sparks, an enthusiastic basketball fan, who presided during the session complimentary to the team.

Mr. Taylor said the school authorities and the team appreciated the spirit shown by the Rotary club in recognizing the record made by the basketball team and in making them feel that the people of Rushville were behind them. Coach Sutton also thanked the business men of Rushville for supporting the team as they had during the season and said that the team had no alibis to offer for losing the sectional tournament.

Judge Sparks praised the high school players for the record made during the season (winning 24 out of 30 games) and complimented them on their sportsmanlike conduct. He called attention to the fact that basketball players have to bear the taunts and jibes of ungentlemanly opponents some times and that grinning and refusing to be led into making a foul, such as he had observed Rushville players do, was the real test of a man.

Judge Sparks pointed out some of the lessons which basketball players could learn for application when they get in the battle of life. He called attention to the fact that when a man makes a foul on an opponent in the struggle for a livelihood, the opponent does not have to make a basket—he scores anyway. The judge said that the experiences the boys gained in basketball were invaluable if the players would apply them to the problems of later life.

Judge Sparks expressed regret that the team would lose "M" Headlee, Harold Miller and Howard Eakins this year by graduation, but said that he and all their friends were even more glad that they had completed their high school course successfully and were ready for college work.

The judge said that he wanted every member of the squad to know that the Rotary club was behind them and that every member of the club was their friend and appreciated the effort they had made during the basketball season. He also commented on the manifestation of interest by the club in the school activities and said it was a good omen.

VERDICT OF WOMAN JURY IS REVERSED

In Circuit Court With Men as Jurors
Henry Alsop and Jesse Winkler
Are Found Not Guilty

DELIBERATES A SHORT TIME

Grand Jury Will be Convened Wednesday and Will Probably Report by Thursday Afternoon

The jury in the circuit court yesterday in the case of the State against Henry Alsop and Jesse Winkler, reversed the decision of a jury composed of women in a city court trial here in December, when a verdict of not guilty was rendered by the men in circuit court yesterday.

The two men were charged with renting a building for gambling purposes, in connection with the confession of John C. Hoke, who stated that he had lost money in games at a soft drink parlor at the corner of Cerro Cordo and Second street. About 30 affidavits were filed in the city court, which resulted in practically as many fines.

It was stated yesterday in the Republican that one of the defendants was Leonard Alsop, but it should have been Henry Alsop. Prosecutor Stevens in directing his remarks at the opening of the case, referred to the defendant as Leonard Alsop, and this was the cause of the names being confused.

The jury yesterday afternoon was out only a few minutes and reached their decision in finding the defendants not guilty on the second ballot. The first vote stood 9 to 3 for acquittal and the next vote was unanimous.

The evidence yesterday disclosed the fact that the two defendants were not aware of the fact that gambling was being carried on in the building, and the jurors are supposed to have reached their decision on that ground.

This morning in the court several cases pertaining to juveniles were taken up, and one young man who confessed to passing bad checks on local merchants was given a rigid lecture, and it was intimated that he will be given a schooling at Plainfield.

Sheriff Jones today was busy summoning witnesses for the grand jury which will re-convene in the morning for the third time this term of court. Quite a long list of names were handed the sheriff by Prosecutor Stevens, and two more days will be taken up with their investigations.

The grand jury two weeks ago held a three day session, and met once last week, and in all sessions, Continued on Page Six

ANOTHER CHANGE IS MADE IN REGISTRATION

Law Passed by Legislature Provides List of Voters Next Year Shall be Permanent Record

CHANGES WILL BE PERMITTED

One of the bills passing the legislature which closed last midnight, provides for another change in the registration of voters. The new law makes arrangements for a permanent registration list, instead of a registration of voters every election which has been found a very expensive practice, as well as one causing much trouble for voters.

The bill first introduced provided that the registration lists of 1921 should be made the permanent registration file, but it was later amended to provide that the lists of 1922 be made the permanent file because in some counties last year's lists had been destroyed.

This means that it will be necessary for voters to register again, but at elections thereafter corrections may be made in October to within ten days of the election, by a proceeding before the county auditor. Such corrections are also allowed on the day of election, under one provision of the law.

GUILTY OF WHISKEY DEAL

Six Defendants Convicted by Chicago
Federal Court Jury

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Mar. 8.—Mike DePike Hetler and five others were found guilty by a jury in federal court here today in conspiring to violate the prohibition law in a $200,000 whiskey deal.

Six defendants were freed. The jury was out just 24 hours. Originally 32 were indicted in connection with the conspiracy but all except 6 were cleared of the charges.

The decision was regarded by the prohibition agents as the most important ever made under the Volstead act. Practically the entire jury was made up of farmers. Government attorneys interpreted their verdict as an indication that the farmers supported strong enforcement of the prohibition laws.

TO COMPILE DATA ON INDIANA FARMS

1,017 Township Assessors Begin Task of Collecting Agricultural Statistics in State

205,000 FARMERS IN INDIANA

Information Gathered Will be Used as Basis for Crop and Livestock Operations for Next Year

By GEORGE C. GRANT

U. S. Government Agricultural Station

(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 8.—One thousand and seventeen township assessors and their deputies began the work of collecting agricultural statistics in Indiana last Tuesday in connection with their assessing work from 205,000 farmers of the state.

The information so gathered will be used by the many farmers as a basis for crop and livestock operations. With available data farmers can avoid excessive acreages and large surpluses in production which so vitally affect the marketing of their products.

Farmers generally are waking up to the fact that they must know what is going on the country in order to make farming a paying business.

During the past year, every farmer in the state produced his crop and livestock at a heavy loss. This was due to some extent to the stimulus given production during the war period. At the peak of production, prices began to decline until at this time, farmers are receiving about the same for their products as they did in 1914.

Practically all farmers are rearranging their plans for this year and succeeding years in order that no large surplus of either grains or livestock will be produced. The statistical information gathered by assessors in this and other corn belt states will form the basis on which this change will be made and every farmer should see to it that his farm is correctly reported. Many farmers are now keeping record books so that they will have accurate information for the assessor when he arrives each March.

The law required township assessors to make these reports and the farmers to give the information under quite heavy penalties for refusing to do so.

PACKERS POST NOTICE OF CUT

Announcement Today of 12½ Percent Reduction in Wages Affecting 200,000 Employees

UNION LEADERS IN MEETING

Packing Executive Differ in Their Belief Regarding Outcome of Order, Some Expecting Strike

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Mar. 8.—Wages of 200,000 employees of the packing companies were cut approximately 12½ percent today. The eight hour day placed in effect during the war was abandoned.

The decision will effect about 30,000 employees in Chicago and the remainder are in the other 11 principal market centers of the country.

Notice of the reduction was posted at all packing plants today. The plants had not been informed of the move previously and there was some anxiety among the packers as to what the real action would be.

Union leaders of the packing industry are now meeting in Omaha to decide the course of action. Considerable apprehension among the employees might result in a strike.

Leading packing executives interviewed by the United Press differed in their belief on the outcome of the order. Some believed there would be a strike while others said they did not believe the union leaders could engage in a successful strike because of the unemployment situation.

The packers have prepared further terms and now believe they are ready. Their forces are only about half the size they were during the war.

Outside of Chicago among the cities where a large number of workers will be affected, include St. Louis, Kansas City and Indianapolis.

Packing plants work will never go back to the ten hour day. Denis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers, declared when informed of the packers' action.

SPECIAL ELECTION IS SET FOR SEPT. 6

Legislature Fixes Date For Ballot on Proposed Amendments to The State Constitution

TIME ORIGINALLY FIXED

Objections to June 7, Proposed in Amendment, Because it is a Busy Time For Farmers

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 8.—A special election will be held September 6, next, to give voters of the state opportunity to pass judgment on several proposed amendments to the constitution which has been incorporated in resolutions adopted by the General Assembly.

This is the date originally fixed in Senate Bill 312, but a House committee amended it to provide for the special election on June 7, next. This early date was so objectionable to many members of the House, when the bill came up for third reading, that Representative Miltenberger proposed a motion indefinitely to postpone the whole bill. The Miltenberger motion was tabled, but the fight he started resulted in a Republican conference being called for noon and a decision to amend the bill to postpone the election until September.

Representative Phillips, while desiring the amendments to be submitted at a special election, urged that June was too early for proper consideration of the proposed constitutional amendments. He argued also that this was a month when farmers would be too busy to go to the polls. Several members urged that the amendments should be passed at an expensive special election, but friends of the proposed amendments fought for the special election with a fear that all of the amendments would fail if submitted at the general election.

Seventy-two members voted for the passage of the bill while twenty-three opposition votes were cast. Those voting against the proposal for the special election were Representatives Clapp, Coapstick, Coppock, Bedgood, Cronin, Cooper, Filbert, Curry, Gill, Gottschalk, Grayson, Hall, Hansell, Humphries, Benz, Jameson, Lowe, Schultz, Winesburg, Barker of Posey, Johnson of Monroe and Davis of Hendricks.

An amendment, offered by Representative Barker of Boone, was adopted that reduced the number of election officers from five to three. This will reduce the election expense by $100,000. Under the Barker amendment, the election officials will be one judge, one inspector and one clerk. The majority party in each county will be represented by an inspector and clerk, while the minority party will have the clerk.

The House late last night passed Senate Joint Resolution 15, with a vote of 60 to 11. The resolution provides for a constitutional amendment to make the office of the state superintendent of public instruction appointive rather than elective. It will be among the amendments voted upon by the people at the special election provided for in a bill passed by the House this afternoon. The resolution had been rushed through the Senate earlier in the day. An attempt to suspend the rules in the House and pass it late this afternoon failed for the lack of a constitutional majority.

EXTRA SESSION FIXED FOR APRIL

Announcement Made by President at White House Dinner Regarding Congress

NOT TO BE BEFORE APRIL 1

International Affairs or Peace Resolution Not Discussed at Conference With Harding

Washington, Mar. 8.—President Harding announced early today that the special session of Congress would be called not before April 1 and might be a week later.

Announcement was made after a White House dinner which Republican leaders of the Senate and House attended. The conference lasted for four hours, breaking up exactly at midnight, and the President said the legislative program had been discussed.

The President said various subjects were discussed in an attempt to ascertain the most important to be taken up by the next Congress.

President Harding said international affairs had not been discussed and some of the guests said specifically that the adoption of the Knox resolution to declare the state of war at an end also had not entered into the discussion.

Asked about the special session, the President said:

"I can only say to you that it will not be earlier than April 1, and it might possibly be a week later. We also discussed a taxation program for the session. We were trying to determine which was the real pressing business for Congress, whether it was emergency tariff legislation or a complete revision of the tax schedules.

"We passed the matter up for further conference after there has been a canvass of the committees in charge of that legislation. It means that instead of going into a session of Congress without knowing whether we are going, we are trying to canvass the whole situation and arrive at a program.

"This is the beginning of the program of co-operation between the President and Congress. It is an early step in fulfillment of what I believe the best policy of conducting the government, bringing the fellows together and getting them acquainted with each others' views.

Ratification of the Colombian treaty was mentioned, the President said, but he indicated that there had been no decision. This treaty, by which the United States would pay $25,000,000 to Colombia for partitioning of Panama, was reported out yesterday by the Senate foreign relations committee.

Mr. Harding said army and navy matters had been discussed only "very casually". Failure of appropriation bills had been referred to, he said, in considering what the special session would have to handle.

Opposition to re-enactment of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law as a stop gap measure until a new law can be enacted developed at the conference according to some of those attending.

Chairman Fordney of the House ways and means committee was said to have laid before the conference his plans for tariff revision, and the proposal to re-enact the Payne-Aldrich law met with instant opposition from senators present.

One member of the House said the legislative situation, was more muddled to his mind than it was before the conference. He referred to differences between Chairman Fordney and Representative Longworth of Ohio, member of the ways and means committee, over tariff revision but whether these were aired at the conference was not made clear.

Chairman Fordney was said to have presented an equalization tariff plan to protect American industry, designed to place foreign goods on the American market on a par with the wholesale prices of similar American goods.

After the conference broke up and his guests had departed, the President came out on the front portico of the White House to talk to the newspaper correspondents.

Former President Wilson Leaves White House Broken Man Physically

None Who Saw His Departure From The White House. Except Those Who Had Seen Him Recently, Imagined Him to be in Such a Serious Condition.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Washington, Mar. 8.—The most interesting incident of Inauguration Day was the departure from the White House. The newspaper men went up to the front door and from that point of view got a very good picture of the whole affair. President Wilson was much more seriously invalided than had been indicated by his former appearance at the theatre. He came from the front door slowly, his left side supported by one of the White House attendants, his right hand holding a cane which caused an evident inclination to topple over on the left side. It took what seemed an age for him to negotiate the distance between the front door and the steps leading down to the automobile. Occasionally the attendant let him walk alone, but always stood ready to assist him.

None of those present, except the few that had seen him recently, imagined him to be in such a serious condition. The unnatural expression of his face caused by a distortion of the eye, and the shuffling step caused a profound pity to sweep over the onlookers, most of whom, though in the open, immediately took off their hats. When he reached the few steps leading down to the car, it was necessary for the secret men to move the helpless left leg down step by step, and to adjust it when he got into the car. Just as he reached the top step an expression that appeared to be one of worry swept over his face and with an effort he turned to look back over his shoulder. This incident was not mentioned in the newspaper accounts of the day but no doubt for the instant the thought came to him that he was leaving forever the place he had occupied long enough to consider home.

President Elect Harding came out of the door half a pace behind him, his face absolutely set, expressionless. He walked slowly behind the President, his body bent slightly forward with the natural re-action of strength to weakness, but he made no effort to assist in the progress. He wore a heavy short dark blue overcoat, which with the tall silk hat rather accentuated his size beside the bent form of the President.

The latter seemed to sense the contrast and the inclination of Senator Harding to assist him, for once during the slow journey he turned and made some slight remark, which caused his successor to smile.

Interest preponderantly was with President Wilson. Senator Harding might have been in Marion or Panama, except that his presence signified the departure of the real actor in the scene and thereby gave it the touch that made it drama.

There was a slight pause when the top step was reached. The two Presidents stood together with Senator Knox and Uncle Joe Cannon directly behind them. Senator Knox showed visible concern about the President, his look resembling that of pity. Of the group Uncle Joe Cannon was a most interesting figure. He wore a long overcoat with the

CITY TREASURER

We are authorized to announce the name of George G. Helm as a candidate for the office of City Treasurer, subject to the Republican primary May 3, 1921.

A Good Legislature

Despite political affiliations, it must be admitted that the 72nd general assembly which ended last midnight, stands out as exceptional because it demonstrated more real efficiency than has been shown by an Indiana law-making body in years.

The general and specific appropriation bills were disposed of early in the session and cleared the deck for other measures. The appropriation bills are generally delayed and held up by procrastinating methods and not passed until just before the close of the session.

The action by the legislators on these two bills was regarded as a good "symptom" and it is now disclosed that the members of the general assembly were anxious to transact the business of the state in the most efficient manner.

The legislature held out steadfastly against increases in the salaries of public officials, although there were doubtless many instances where office holders should have been allowed more money. They have had no increase in salaries and went through the era of high prices without a single advance in the amount they received.

The legislature demonstrated its sincerity of purpose by killing the measure to increase the salaries of legislators several hundred percent.

Many meritorious measures were passed by the legislature, not the least of which was the budget law which is designed to place state affairs on a more business-like basis. It was one of the pledges Governor McCray made before elected and the bill was introduced and passed with dispatch. The legislature also provided greater revenue for the higher educational institutions of the state, which were in dire need of being embarrassed by the lack of funds, due to the miserly policy of past general assemblies.

Space will not permit enumeration of the many good laws passed by the legislature, but in due time
the taxpayers of the state will come to the realization of the fact that the legislature was an exceptional one. It had its faults, of course, and doubtless passed many laws which should not have been put on the statute books.

Many politicians were dubious
about the legislature accomplishing anything because of the overwhelming republican majority, but it did not prove to be topheavy and there has been less factional friction in the session than in any held for many years.

Pampered Brains

We all admire a smart young man, but we do not admire him when he becomes "too smart".

That is the trouble with many young men.

They are endowed by nature with more than the average allotment of brains, but they lack the poise and judgment necessary to keep them
under control.

This deficiency, however, is not so much their fault as it is the fault of their parents.

When a baby shows indications of being quick witted too many parents immediately begin to humor it and spoil it.

Instead of maintaining a gentle but firm control over the child they give in to its whims and encourage
it in its wilfulness.

It grows up with the idea firmly implanted in its mind that it must have its own way in everything.

If it makes a pert remark and is not corrected that remark calls for others in kind, and this leads naturally to the spirit of "smartness" which we so greatly deplore in many young fellows just entering man's estate.

Brains in the cradle require nursing.

Pampering only converts them in-
to the egotism of maturity.

The fellow who kicks his home town shouldn't complain if he finds that in time the town begins to kick him. Kicking is not profitable pastime at best, and people would do well to keep this fact in mind when they assume to emphasize their own judgment against that of an entire community.

Why do some people stand in deadly fear of being struck by lightning? It never hits the same person twice.

Don't get the mistaken idea that you know it all. You never know what your neighbor really thinks of you.

The opportunity that was knocking at your door didn't respond when you warbled "com in". It expected you to go out and grab it.

We don't place any reliance in the report that General Villa is now a Sunday school teacher. We doubt if there are either Sundays or schools in Old Mexico.

Law Regarding Mortgage
Exemptions Cited by Auditor

The law enacted by the 71st Indiana general assembly, which met in 1919, has been cited by the county auditor as a means of clearing up the confusion which exists in the minds of some people regarding mortgage exemptions. The law is as follows:

An Act providing for the exemption from taxation of certain property owned by soldiers and sailors of the Mexican and Civil Wars
and their widows.

Soldiers', Sailors' Tax Exemption

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That any soldier or sailor who served three (3) months or more in the armies or navies of the United States during the Civil or Mexican Wars, as evidenced by a pension certificate, and who shall have reached the age of seventy (70)
years or more; or the widow of any such soldier or sailor, as evidenced by a pension certificate, who shall have reached the age of sixty (60) years or more may have the amount of one thousand dollars ($1,000) deducted from the assessed valuation of his or her taxable property upon the first day of April of each year, wherein the amount of taxables as shown by the duplicate does not exceed $5,000, and the balance remaining after such deduction shall have been made, shall constitute the basis for the assessment and taxation of the property of the soldier, sailor or widow herein mentioned.

Statement Filed With Auditor

Section 2. Any person desiring to avail himself of herself of the provisions of this act shall, between the first day of March and the first day of May inclusive of each year, file with the auditor of the county, wherein he or she is a resident, a sworn statement of his or her age
and place of residence, and as further evidence of identification, submit for the auditor's inspection his or her pension certificate.

Sap and Salt

By BERT MOSES.

The last straw is soon reached by people who look for it.

Both money and brains are things that amount to little unless used to good advantage.

Every time people marry to please their relatives the problem of divorce gets bigger.

Hez Heck says: "The more civilized we become the more police it takes to keep us decent."

It's human nature to do pretty much as you want to, whether there is a law against it or not.

The penalty for lying is that eventually you reach the point where you can't tell the truth about anything even when you want to.

to J. Earl Norris was sold at auc-

Health is the Greatest Wealth

It is important, then, to see about health first of all. Get back the strength, the ambition, the vitality, the brain power, the old snap and hustle of perfect health again, and then—what can hold you back?

"But how shall I go about finding health?" you ask. A very natural and prudent question.

The answer is best reached by a little logic and common sense.

Where Does Health
Come From?

"It is a gift of nature," you reply.

Quite right! Health is a natural boon—the rich gift of Mother Nature herself. The true road to health, then is through natural methods of health-building, a simple method that enables the system to right itself. All scientists agree nowadays that the real health-building power is in the body itself and needs only to be brought into proper action to renew health completely. That's why so many, many people have tried other methods and received no benefit, get back their good health by

Chiropractic Adjustments

To many it is a surprising fact, but a fact nevertheless, that the NATURAL method of Chiropractic is so dependable, even in the most serious cases. The Chiropractor uses no drugs, no stimulants of any kind, he ADJUSTS the CAUSE and the great power of NATURE, as has been so often demonstrated, restores to health.

An unusually interesting program will be given. A full attendance of the membership is desired and a cordial invitation to the women of the church is extended.

Miss Margaret Mahin delightfully entertained the members of the Tri Kappa sorority last evening at her home in North Harrison street. During the business session the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Charles Wilson; vice-president, Mrs. Loren Martin; secretary, Miss Margaret Mahin; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Osborne; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Paul Newhouse. Also the members completed arrangements for the concert to be given by the Indiana University Glee Club at the Graham Annex, in this city, April 2. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Board of Children's Guardian. During the social hour at the close of the business session the regular penny supper was served.

"Passions Playground", Princess
Katherine MacDonald, popularity termed "the American beauty" and whose entrance into film stardom has been accorded unprecedented approval among local theatregoers, will be seen at the Princess again today in her latest First National Picture, "Passions Playground", adapted from the famous novel, "The Guests of Hercules", by C. N. and A. M. Williamson.

"Passions Playground", is a stirring story of romance, losses and gains at the world-famous Monte Carlo where titled persons from all lands stake their fortunes, good names and crowns on the roulette wheel and other numerous gambling devices here conducted.

Chance and Romance
An appealing strain relieves the tense dramatic moments that follow in the disclosure of a unique plot to break the bank at Monte Carlo. As Mary Grant, a convent girl, just in receipt of her inheritance, Miss MacDonald plays the part of a girl who leaves the holy institution to find that the gambling blood that flowed in the veins of her father leads her on to winnings that become the gossip of the famous resort.

Wearing gowns that were especially designed for this production, and appearing in her most famous characterization as the unsophisticated convent girl and later the winner of Monte Carlo's greatest prizes, Katherine MacDonald's role in "Passions Playground" bids fair to win her thousands of additional admirers.

An Absorbing Story

are perfect because the producer evidently went into the very heart of the country with which the story deals and shot his scenes direct from the original. The interiors show a fine appreciation of old Southern homes.

The story is absorbing and moves with increasing speed as the action reaches its climax. It has to do with the struggle for possession of a half tumble down manor house, believed by the superstitious natives to harbor "spooks." The atmosphere of mystery and superstition is closely interwoven into the theme of the story and convincingly exploited in the picture.

May McAvoy is splendid in the role of a poor little Southern girl and Bruce Gordon is a considerate man manly hero. Several striking characterizations by other members of the all-star cast are most worthy of praise.

It was fastened on something seemingly miles away or fifty years ago. He appeared not interested in the scene before him, uncognizant of its tremendous significance or probably in his philosophy viewing it as one of those every-day rarities which make life.

President Wilson looked at his hat as Senator Harding followed him into the machine and passed him to sit on his left. His hair was white and the back of his head absolutely bald.

SCHOOL WILL DO FORESTRY WORK

Forestry School of Purdue Accepts Invitation to Visit the State Forest Reserve

EXPECTS TO ROUGH IT A BIT

Planned For Students to Study The Tree Life, Plants, Trees and Caliper The Tree Growth

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 8.—Members of the School of Forestry of Purdue University will visit the State Forest Reserve near Henryville in Clark county and do practical forestry work this spring, according to announcement today by Charles C. Deam, state forester under the department of conservation which has charge of the big reservation.

Mr. Deam is in receipt of a letter from Prof. Burr N. Prentice, in charge of the forestry school, accepting an invitation of the conservation department for the class to visit the reserve, and conveying the information that students will spend at least one week in the State Forest either late in April or early May. Prof. Prentice will head the delegation and the students will take over the Hill House during their visit. They will sleep on cots, have a camp cook and expect to rough it a bit.

It is planned for the students to study the tree life on the reservation, plant trees and caliper the tree growth on a number of experimental plots.

Sufficient timber on the reservation had reached a size where it may be utilized for making railroad ties, and during their sojourn members of the forestry class will select and mark enough trees to cut from three to five thousand ties.

The forest reserve of 2,000 acres came into possession of the State eighteen years ago and despite the fact it is but a small acreage compared to what other states have set aside to promote reforestation and increase timber production Indiana on this reservation is conducting what is said to be the largest experiment in growing hardwoods ever attempted in the United States. Considerable success has marked the experiments so far and the reservation is held for forestry students to obtain practical field work.

Students from the Purdue School of Forestry have visited the state reserve before for study but this is the first year students will participate in planting trees or marking those trees of marketable size.

PURDUE WRESTLERS IN AN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

Championships Established in Seven Different Weight by Members of The Mat Squad

NEW MATERIAL LOOMS UP

Lafayette, Ind., Mar. 8.—Wrestling championship for the school in seven different weights were decided recently in the athletic carnival at Purdue University. Several men who have not been on the varsity mat squad this year placed in the wrestling championship and brought out some new material for Coach Paulson. The winners in the various weights were as follows:

115 pound, W. K. Turner of Elwood; 125 pound O. J. Broughton of Huntington; 135 pounds, K. M. Fischer of Crawfordsville; 145 pounds, William Wells Rockport; 158 pounds W. K. Shick, Laporte; 175 pounds E. V. Shierling, Ridgeville; heavyweights, Walter L. Spencer of Frankfort.

Spencer is showing up exceptionally well this year as a member of the varsity squad and he had won every contest in which he has participated this year, throwing his opponents on the Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, and Northwestern teams. Because of this record, he is considered one of the strongest contenders for heavy weight wrestling honors in the Western Conference this year.

RECOMMENDS A MEMORIAL

Richmond Committee Would Erect Building in Memory of Soldiers

Richmond, Ind., Mar. 8.—Recommendation for the construction of a memorial hall in memory of Wayne county soldiers, to cost between $400,000 and $450,000, was contained in a report which the county memorial committee filed with the board of county commissioners Monday. The site recommended for the structure is on the south side of North A Street, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, near the Reid Memorial Church. The building will cover an area of 180x230 feet, and will be of classical or colonial architecture. Besides an auditorium to seat 2,500 persons, the building will be so arranged that banquets, industrial and agricultural exhibits can be held in it. Guy Study of St. Louis drew the plans, and the report recommends that he be employed as architect to perfect the plans, and that Working & Son of Richmond be named as assistants.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. F. B. Johnson & Co. has been appointed agent for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit. (Adv.)

THE ODD 25

If, out of every one hundred people in civilized lands, seventy-five were minus one hand, one foot, one ear, everyone would marvel.

Yet it is a fact that today, seventy-five people in every hundred are defective in what is undoubtedly our most precious gift—the faculty of sight.

There are only twenty-five people in every hundred who have perfect sight. The remainder are—or should be—wearing glasses in order to correct the deficiencies of their vision.

If you are not absolutely positive that you have perfect vision call and let us make a careful, scientific examination of your eyes.

PROMPTNESS WAS SHOWN IN SESSION

Legislature Dealt With Important Issues in Quick and Efficient Manner, Record Shows

1921 SESSION IS ENDED

No Log Rolling Over General And Specific Measures and Nothing Goes to the Last Minute

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 8.—A resume the important actions of the 1921 session of the Legislature which adjourned at twelve o'clock Monday night, shows that the House and Senate acted with promptness and unusual efficiency in dealing with many important questions. The two appropriation bills which usually have been held up until the very last hour were on the desk of Governor McCray several days before the final adjournment. This reform was one of the most profitable put into effect in several years.

There was no log-rolling over the general or specific appropriation measures and the general opinion was that the House and Senate acted with good judgment and fairness to all concerned. The specific appropriation provides for the inauguration of a building program on a limited scale at the state institutions. However, the committees in charge kept these appropriations down as low as possible for the good of the institutions.

The Legislature acted with liberality and good judgment toward the state and common schools. Before the session was half over, the bill providing for a five-cent tax levy for the State Universities and the State Normal was passed. This, however, calls for an increase of less than one and one-half cents in the tax levy and is expected to give the schools a much needed fund. After much discussion, the Legislature adopted a bill providing for seven cents tax levy for the common schools, which is an increase of less than a cent and a half. Originally there was a demand that the legislature pass a bill providing for a thirty-cent tax levy for this purpose. In order to provide an emergency fund for poor counties in which there are some 200 schools which might have been closed on account of lack of funds, the Legislature provided for an appropriation of $200,000 out of the regular school levy in order to tide them over until their own funds are available.

Other important actions which have been taken by this legislature are for strengthening the blue sky law to protect the people against the sale of bad securities; the adoption of a budget system under which Governor McCray will be able to obtain an accurate estimate annually of the financial needs of all institutions and departments; the passage of several important amendments to the tax law which

Picks Up A Silver Quarter!

The supreme test for a vacuum cleaner is the powerful suction. It is certain that a machine which picks up pennies and quarters, takes dirt in the same manner. An all suction machine without a brush, and with five exclusive patents is found only in the "Air-Way," which can be purchased on easy payments, using it at the same time, and eliminating all future house cleaning. A demonstration will not obligate you. Telephone today.
